

THE POETIC CALENDAR.

Two days now till little Tommy.
Celebrating with the town,
Puts some powder in a can
And meets the angels half way down.

But it's six days till Bryan.
Letting no one stronger run,
Makes the odds for Taft and Sherman
Something like 16 to 1.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.
FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM H. TAFT,
of Ohio.
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
JAMES S. SHERMAN, of New York.
FOR CONGRESS,
Hon. JOSEPH B. BENNETT.

MR. BRYAN should remember that no Cincinnati man has ever been defeated for the Presidency.—Warren Tribune.

CALEB POWERS is quite modest in his newly acquired liberty. Although he has just been released from jail, he now proposes to put his neck in the matrimonial yoke.

NEARLY five million dollars has been stolen by trusted employes of the Pittsburgh Banks in the last three years. Your Pittsburgh man seldom cashiers for his health.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

THE Paris Gaulois says of Mrs. LONGWORTH: "Always graceful and enthusiastic, it is to her noble efforts that Mr. TAFT's nomination is due." How nice! And how very French!—New York World.

MENTAL and emotional culture are as valuable as physical culture. Train your mind to think, your heart to respond and your body to keep in health, all under self-control that makes the self least important.

MR. WATTERSON says that he is going to vote for BRYAN in order to show the Republicans there is a God. As soon as he finishes that job we nominate him for a Missionary to Timbuctoo, or three.—Carlisle Mercury.

LIFT up your voices in acclaim, ye men who pay the bills, for a Chicago Jury has decided that $50 hats are not household necessities for women and that a husband need not pay for such expensive headgear purchased by his wife. Talk about LINCOLN's emancipation proclamation now.

THE Courier-Journal's Washington's correspondent contributes the following item to the literature on the temperance question:

"It is to be regretted that so brilliant a man as ex-Senator CARMACK should ruin his political life in an effort to lead such an absurd and utterly impossible proposition as absolute Prohibition."

THE storm-center of the Republican campaign is to be closer to Maysville than it ever has been. Cincinnati is to be Taft's headquarters, and FORAKER and LONGWORTH are also there. Besides, we must not forget Brother CHARLEY and his barrel.

MR. WATTERSON, who never said a good word for him in life, prints a rather complimentary editorial of him now that he is dead. The secret of the Editor's hatred of President CLEVELAND has been told in many ways. The truth may yet come out.—Frankfort State Journal.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, is to have a skyscraper that scrapes. M. TOURNAY, a Belgian engineer, has been commissioned by the Committee for the International Exhibition at Brussels in 1910 to erect a tower at Ixelles which will be much higher than the Eiffel Tower. The cost is estimated at $240,000.

POOR LITTLE LINA

Poor little Lina. She "lived out" with Mr. and Mrs. Kingsford. The father had gone to the dogs long ago, and the mother, a red-eyed, bulbous-nosed creature, wrapped in shapeless rags and those queer, faded shawls of which tippy women seem to have a monopoly, now and then haunted the home.

The only son of the house, Charles Kingsford, was just her own age. In fact, Lina had fallen in love with him, and now and then her humble pillow was wet with tears.

Charles Kingsford was not a worthless rascal, but he was a very wild young fellow. He led the life wild young men lead in a great city, and got into one small scrape after another, until at last a mighty trouble fell upon him.

There was nothing for it but to leave the city, to leave home and friends.

It was a stormy night. Mr. and Mrs. Kingsford had been to a church meeting, and a collection had been taken up. The money—$500—was given in charge of Mr. Kingsford, who, instantly on his return, locked it up in the drawer of a desk in the back parlor.

On this occasion Charles also sought his room at once, and to Lina was left the task of locking up the house and seeing that all the fires were safe. Mrs. Kingsford awoke with a start. She distinctly heard the noise of voices below. Women's plainly.

Mrs. Kingsford stole downstairs. The back parlor door was closed, but it had a keyhole. One cannot see much through a keyhole, but what she did see was enough. A bulbous-nosed woman, in a miserable bonnet and shawl, sitting before the fire drinking a cup of tea—Lina's mother.

"I knew it was a liberty," said Lina, "but the other fires were all out, Mrs. Kingsford, and it was so cold. It's my mother, ma'am."

"Will you tell your mother that we are going to look up for the night?" "Yes, ma'am," said Lina.

Lina, having seen her mother out into the storm, put out the light and crouched down by the grate. Poor Lina!

Then she heard the sound of steps approaching, and shrank back into the shadows.

It was an hour before she went to bed, and then she crept upstairs shivering and trembling, overcome with horror. What was it she had seen? Whatever it was, she told nothing of it to any one.

The next morning she was up as usual, and found Mrs. Kingsford a-str. "My son is called away on business," she said. "It is something very unexpected."

Two hours later Mrs. Kingsford called Lina into the back parlor and shut the door. Mr. Kingsford was standing before the desk in which he had deposited the money he held in trust, the night before.

"Do you see this, Lina?" he asked, showing her the broken lock.

"I do not think you guilty, Lina," said Mrs. Kingsford; "but you know your mother is not a respectable woman, and she was here last night."

"Madam!" cried Lina, "my poor mother is innocent. I tell you that I swear it. I mean what I say."

"Then you know who took it," said Mrs. Kingsford. "I see that in your face; confess."

"I tell you my mother is innocent," said Lina. "It is I who am guilty!"

And so, with this confession, and with an obstinate refusal to say more, poor Lina sealed her fate. She was tried for the theft and sentenced, in consequence of her previous good character, to the lightest possible term of imprisonment.

As for Charles Kingsford, no one heard of him for years. Home he came one day—a brown man with a long beard, whom no one knew at first. He sat by the fireside and was questioned and asked questions. At last he said:

"And what has become of poor Lina? Has she married?"

And then came the story of the theft and its punishment.

The words were scarcely out of Mrs. Kingsford's lips when her son—the great bearded man of whom she was so proud—clasped his hands over his eyes and burst into tears like any woman.

"My God!" he cried. "Has Lina suffered this for me? Father, she was as innocent as an angel! It was I who robbed your desk! I have been the cause of ruin to one who was almost an angel."

He spent long months in searching for Lina, and he found her at last.

In a wretched home she sat sewing, by the light of a poor tallow candle.

"Master Charles!" she said; "I never thought I should see you again."

"I know all, Lina. Why did you make such a sacrifice?"

"It was either mother or you," she said.

He looked in her face, took her hand and put it to his lips.

When Charles Kingsford sailed for his new home in California his wife went with him, and the mother's pride had been laid low; for, as they parted on the steamer's deck, she kissed not only her son, but his wife, also.

After Prohibition.

"What are the lost arts?" inquired the student.

"I don't know all of them," answered Col. Stillwell, "but making a mint julep is one."

GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

Meeting at Eminence Tomorrow Which Should Have Far-Reaching Effect

The Good Roads Convention called by Governor Willson to meet at Eminence tomorrow will mark the beginning of a new era for good roads in Kentucky.

The meeting will be attended by State officials, members of the General Assembly and United States Government experts will demonstrate building and exhibit the most improved machinery. The Federal Government has just completed one mile of model road near Eminence, which will be used as an object lesson.

This fall the amendment to the constitution providing for State aid in road building will be voted on, and the promoters of good roads will use this occasion for a campaign of education.

The following is the tentative program scheduled for the meeting—

Introductory Remarks—Former Lieutenant Governor W. P. Thorne.

Address—Governor A. E. Willson.

Address—Wallace Rowe, Kentucky State University.

Road Talk—Senator Joe Boosworth, father of good roads in Kentucky.

Address—B. F. Heidel, United States Government expert, from Washington, D. C.

Macadam Road Construction—George P. Williams, Government expert in charge of model roads.

In addition, there will be demonstrations of road construction; also demonstrations of different oils for surfacing roads after completion.

It is the intention of this conference to organize a permanent good roads organization, to elect a permanent Secretary and to establish permanent headquarters so that information regarding good roads may be disseminated before the next meeting of the Legislature.

This woman says that after months of suffering Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her as well as ever.

Maude E. Forgie, of Leesburg, Va., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. For months I suffered from feminine ills so that I thought I could not live. I wrote you, and after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and using the treatment you prescribed I felt like a new woman. I am now strong, and well as ever, and thank you for the good you have done me."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

BAD BLOOD

"I had trouble with my bowels which made my blood impure. My face was covered with pimples which no external remedy could remove. I tried your Cascarets and great was my joy when the pimples disappeared after a month's steady use. I have recommended them to all my friends and quite a few have found relief."

Miss Edna Dawson of Jackson avenue entertained a few friends Monday evening for the pleasure of her guest, Miss Lulu Derach of Maysville. The large veranda was adorned with Japanese lanterns and was an attractive spot where the guests assembled. The evening was spent in dancing, after which ice cream, cake and punch were served. Twenty-five guests were present.

DEEDS NOT WORDS.

Maysville People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit.
The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills For Maysville kidney sufferers Have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Maysville people who have been cured to stay cured.

William H. Paul, 333 East Third Street, Maysville, Ky., says:
"My opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills has not changed since I first recommended them several years ago, and the statement I gave in their favor at that time still holds good. Before I learned of their merit I was bothered considerably by pains in my back and other symptoms of disordered kidneys. After doctoring unsuccessfully I was induced to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial, procuring them at J. Jas. Wood & Son's Drugstore. They promptly and effectively cured me, and I did not have a return of the difficulty until a short time ago. At that time I again resorted to Doan's Kidney Pills, and, as in the first case, they thoroughly removed every sign of the trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

COL. W. L. MARSHALL A Distinguished Son of Mason County May Be New Chief of Engineers

The chances are very flattering that Col. William L. Marshall, a native of Mason county, may receive the appointment of Chief of U. S. Engineers at Washington to succeed Gen. McKenzie, retired.

Col. Marshall is about sixty years of age and was born near Washington, this county. He is a son of the late Col. Charles A. Marshall of the old Sixteenth Kentucky Regiment and a brother of Mr. Paxton Marshall.

It is stated at Washington that President Roosevelt has been very much in favor of appointing Col. Marshall and ex-Secretary Taft has also put in some good licks for him and the fact that President Roosevelt has had, within two days, Col. Marshall as his guest at luncheon causes a belief that he will get the appointment and if it should turn out that way it will prove that Mr. Taft will be permitted to make the selection after all. It is a well-known fact that he has held strongly to the opinion that as Secretary of War he ought to be permitted to name the head of this important bureau.

The talk is that Mr. Taft has probably won and that Col. Marshall will be placed at the head of the corps.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

Enjoy Using Herpelide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpelide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it always that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpelide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpelide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpelide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; likewise out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Did You Ever

Stop to think that if you personally selected the cloth for your own garments you would look different from the rank and file you meet, and that if this cloth were cut to your own measure, and skillfully and honestly tailored by hand, you would have clothes that fit you more perfectly and give you better service than the clothing worn by the masses? Think it over, then have me make you a suit from the cloth and fashion you like best; you will then understand what real merchant tailoring is. The cost is but slight compared with the value given. Suits to order $18 to $40.
